A top-down view of a wooden table with various dishes. In the top left, a white bowl contains fresh green betel leaves. In the top center, a white card lists menu items and prices. In the center, a white bowl is filled with a dark, chunky mixture of ingredients, including what appears to be pork, mushrooms, and vegetables, garnished with red chili and green herbs. To the right of this bowl, two wooden chopsticks lie horizontally. Surrounding the central bowl are four smaller plates, each containing a single betel leaf with a portion of the prepared mixture on it. The plates are colored light blue, light pink, orange, and yellow. The background is a rustic wooden table surface.
